Now That I've Disappeared

Once Blue

I know my dream
But can't explain
I'm rising slowly
Up to the air
Up where they know me
Now that I've disappeared
The hand that shakes me
Jars and wakes me and
I soon forget
My dreams and yet
The sea's below me
I'm safe and clear
Up where they know me
Now that I've disappeared
My eyes are open
I try to close them but
The light comes through
The blinds and moves
Me from this glowing
Sheet stained with tears
Up where they know me
Now that I've disappeared . . .
