

The Game

DragonForce

Messed up, once again, told me it's okay, but this path that I'm taken, I'm lost in the deep end. Once last chance, nevermore, told me it's alright, in this sea of denial, I'm cleansed in the fire. So why, is it me? Am I blinded or too blind to see. (Am I too blind to see?) Why was I born? Not a part of this society. Again and Again!Chorus: I try so hard to reach for the stars but I failed you all. Try to keep standing tall, never had a real chance at all, but still I'm searchingSame thing, different day, try to make a change. Left with nothing more to live for, but everything to die for. Humanity, insanity, the everlasting grip. Lost our will to keep trying, I bet we must lie in. So why was I born? Not a part of this society. Again and again!Chours: I try so hard to reach, for the stars but I failed you all. Try to
searching for 2,000 ways to say sorry, the life writes it's own tragic story. Time marches onwards and nothing can ever be the same.
But we'll pray for a brighter tomorrow. Brake free form this lifetime of sorrow. Years pass us by but we're all just a part of the game.Guitar SoloChours: I try so hard to reach for the keep standing tall. Neved had a real chance at all. But still I'm searching for 2,000 ways to say sorry. The life writes it's own tragic story. Time marches onwards and nothing can ever be the same.

sorrow. Years pass us by, but we're all just a part of the game.
