

My Antarctica

Duran Duran

Once ago, when I was in control
But that was just, another trick of fate
Playing with my life
There have been some times
I was so tied up and I said to myself
Gotta break it all, but didn't really try
Two hearts beating in this place you've made
You know nothing changes, oh my Antarctica
You can make your rhymes
And paint your rules in black and white
For me to memorize, but never understand
And there will be time, for a thousand vows
And a thousand promises we forgot
To be realized
Two hearts beating in this place you've made
You know nothing changes, oh my Antarctica
One life pumping, we make love to make our heat
And we throb in, my Antarctica
We'll keep the rhythm going, and we remember
We'll keep the laughter flowing, and we remember
We let the music jangle, and we remember
Two hearts beating in this place you make
You know nothing changes, oh my Antarctica
One life pumping, we make love to make our heat
And we throb in, oh my Antarctica
'Cause and shelter, this is what we've made
You know I will stay here, oh in Antarctica
And you will stay here, with me
