

Everybody Loves You Babe

Billy Bragg

Everybody likes you, babe, but me
I guess that proves how stupid I can be
Your father thinks it's swell
Your mum hears wedding bells
Our friends all say we make a lovely couple
We get on so well
People say that we're a perfect match
They don't realize that there's a catch
They don't have to live with you
Forgive you for the things you do
There's just no ignoring
You're pretty but you're boring
Everybody likes you babe, but me
They just don't know how iffy you can be
I'd hate for you to go before I let you know
That everybody loves you, babe, but me
I'm begging you to stay out of my way
'Cause everybody likes you, babe, but me
Everybody likes you, babe, but me
