

Thoughtlife

Emery

And my heart left my chest so forgive me
As you leave to find that next something new
But I can't for the life of me remember
When you changed your words from
I love you to saying you don't know
Just know that you can't take back what you've said
Darling I'm not in the forgiving mood
You kept on replying it was all in my head
Well, you're just a liar and I've got the proof
I've got the proof
So with these few words you'll erase me
Two years of our lives meant nothing to you
But this fool that you made of me has a lesson learned
You can't trust a lover who was never a friend
Just know that you can't take back what you've said
Darling I'm not in the forgiving mood
You kept on replying it was all in my head
Well, you're just a liar and I've got the proof
I've got the proof
I would have offered my life
Taken you home, made you my wife
But hearing you now filling your mouth
With the cowards lies, you're just a disguise
Of the girl of my dreams but I know she's waiting for me
So I'll open my eyes to the day that's before me
And leave here to find that next something new

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>