

Inside Out

Vonray

I don't believe all the things I hear
All these things I hold so dear I won't take for granted
I always thought that you'd be there
Now it somehow seems unfair, you're asking me to take it And do you see the danger? It's creeping up beside
'Cause you're turning me inside out, you're breaking all these promises we made
Maybe time will make it right A picture taken yesterday slowly starts to fade away
There's got to be an answer
There's no use being afraid to see what my life was meant to be
Take me so much higher And do you see the danger? It's creeping up behind
'Cause you're turning me inside out, you're breaking all these promises we made
Maybe time will make it right 'Cause you're turning me inside out, it's taken all my strength and will to stay
Maybe time will make it right Do you feel the danger? It's creeping up beside
'Cause you're turning me inside out, you're breaking all these promises
Breaking all these promises 'Cause you're turning me inside out, you're breaking all these promises we made
Maybe time will make it right 'Cause you're turning me inside out, it's taken all my strength and will to stay
Maybe time will make it right
