Subconscious Life

sElf

There's a naked woman in my dreams
And I want her, cos my brain made her.
There's a beauty warming in my sheets
And I want her, cos my brain made her.
Wake up every day, restless wondering why?
If she can never be [within all we got] (?)
There's an ancient ocean under me
And I'm haunted by the inhabitants.
All the mermaids laugh and call me names
cos I can't swim like their fancy friends.
Get up every day, clueless wondering why?
If I can only wake rested only once or twi-ice
(That'd be nice...)
Each and every night! Got a subconscious life.
Each and every night! I've got a subconscious life.
No book, no pill, no fancy alcohol
Is gonna cut me from imaginary late-night brawls
There's a home-made army in my sheets
And they're marching on my battlefield.
Hordes of ancient electricities
Kidnap brainwaves, electrocuting me.
There's no other way, gonna have to stay up really late
Or risk another underwater ocean da-ate
(Yeah)
Each and every night, I've got a subconscious life.
Each and every night, I've got a subconscious life.
No, I just can't control my dreams today...
No, I just can't control my dreams today...
No, I just can't control my dreams today...
