For the Band

Relient K

Now, for the question
That just won't go away
So what are we gonna do today?'Cuz it seems like
For the last four years
We've had far much less of a sayI know, I always come out
Like a pessimist
But there is always something else
That's leading up to thisChris used to come
To all the local shows
Back when the days were simpler
Do you remember?Those days are gone but Chris is not
And now he's got green hair
And in fact along with that
He's developed a severe disliking forFor the band
(For the band)
(For the band)
(For the band)And I don't like how it seems like
Anything and everything is always
For the bandFor the band
(For the band)
(For the band)
(For the band)I don't like how it seems like
Anything and everything is always
For the bandSo don't think I'm going to Sit and complain
When there's so manyGood things left to say
But watch closely as I refrain
From forgetting who I am along the wayThose days are gone but Chris is not
And now he's got green hair
And in fact along with that
He's developed a severe disliking forFor the band
(For the band)
(For the band)
(For the band)And I don't like how it seems like
Anything and everything is always
For the bandFor the band
(For the band)
(For the band)
(For the band)I don't like how it seems like

Anything and everything is always
For the bandShe sat me down and said to me
"I think you've misplaced your identity
'Cuz what you do isn't all of who you really are"'Cuz everyday is just the same to me
We'll play it sloppily and sing it out of key
Everyday is just the same to me
We'll play it sloppily, we'll sing it out of keyThose days are gone but Chris is not
And now he's got green hair
And in fact along with that
He's developed a severe disliking forFor the band
(For the band)
(For the band)
(For the band)And I don't like how it seems like
Anything and everything is always
For the bandFor the band
(For the band)
(For the band)
(For the band)I don't like how it seems like
Anything and everything is always
For the band
