

Oh, The Places You'll Go

Whitney Wiatt

The night is getting darker still
The pictures I have held inside have never seen the world
Like this, until you said Darling I'll take you tonight
The words were never written
But I can see it in your eyes, your eyes...The silence was enough to sleep
Your arms so warm around me
I could swear it was a dream Darling I'll take you tonight
The words were never written
But I can see it in your eyes, your eyes...One, you're so far away
Two, I wanna stay by your side
And daylight will break into sunny weather
If we're together the storm will wash away
The storm will wash away...Darling I'll take you tonight
The words were never written
But I can see it in your eyes, your eyes...
