Break

I See Stars

We all lose ourselves along the way Sometimes we lose ourselves along the wayDid your heart let someone in now always waking in their sleep mine is so sick of asking how I always end up cutting deepI'm sitting left here in the rain the whole damn world has gone insane there's only so much my mind can take your heart's about to breakRest my wounds the worry is only temporary hold all of it for meDid your heart let someone in now always waking in their sleep
mine is so sick of asking how I always end up cutting deepWe all lose ourselves along the way Sometimes we lose ourselves along the wayI'm sitting left here in the rain
the whole damn world has gone insane
your heart's about to breakOur hearts were made to start the healing Bring back the pain I want to feel it
