Face The Truth

Unsun

You take a look around.
You don't like what you see.
There's people you don't know.
But you know they care.It's been so long since you've heard the hurting words.
I care for you, and it's right this time.
Forget your past, and see what is now.
Even if you don't want to, you gotta face the truth.
You gotta face the truth.You take a look around.
You don't like what you see.
There's people you don't know.
But you know they care.You wait to say good-bye.
"Someday" may come along.
Not thinking of reality.
You make the most of your lies.
A broken heart comes crashing down.
And you're stabbed from behind.
Not willing to admit the truth?
Just face the truth.You gotta face the truth...You take a look around.
You don't like what you see.
There's people you don't know.
Why don't you care?You wait to say good-bye.
"Someday" may come along.
Not thinking of reality.
You make the most of your lies.
A broken heart comes crashing down.
And you're stabbed from behind.
Not willing to admit the truth?
Just face the truth.Why don't you care?You wait to say good-bye.
"Someday" may come along.
Not thinking of reality.
You make the most of your lies.
A broken heart comes crashing down.
And you're stabbed from behind.
Not willing to admit the truth?
Why don't you care?
