

All the Memories (Revisited)

The Classic Crime

I can't stop killing songs you like
You look at me with eyes
Beat the sunrise in a contest, no questionWell, talk to all the others
And bring me back to earth
I'm thankful for your mother for what it's worthOh, all the memories we had
Framed in our minds like photographs
Take a second, take a second and make this last
Here where the future meets the pastI can never fall in love again
I can never fall in love againI can't stop moving 'cause I'll feel dead
Give me a second
And I'll turn into a year that you won't forgetWe'll make them read our stories
And we'll make them eat their words
We'll make their lives seem boring for what it's worthOh, all the memories we had
Framed in our minds like photographs
Take a second, take a second and make this last
Here where the future meets the pastI can never fall in love again
I can never fall in love againI'll drink your poison and say
I'm still not going away
I'll swallow all your bombs and grenades
And love you like a tsunami wave
Wave, waveOh, all the memories we had
Framed in our minds like photographs
Take a second, take a second and make this last
Here where the future meets the pastAnd I can never fall in love again
I can never fall in love againOh, all the memories
Framed in our minds
Take a second, take a second and make this last
Here for a whileI can never fall in love again
I can never fall in love againOh, all the memories
Framed in our minds
Take a second, take a second and make this last
Here for a whileI can never fall in love again
I can never fall in love again
Again

Songwriters

JUSTIN DUQUE, MATTHEW MAC DONALD
Published by
Lyrics © THE BICYCLE MUSIC COMPANY

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>