

Permanent

Acceptance

Sometime ago, I keep losing track over again
All these promises won't turn golden until you touch them
It's permanent, nothing is permanent
It's permanent, we'll be watching your back
Following indecision's lasting for years
Watching, indecision's lasting for years
Sometime ago, memories in my head are starting again
Speak it fast don't move in slow
Running through the country maybe they will find me
It's permanent, nothing is permanent
It's permanent, we'll be watching your back
We'll be watching your back following indecisions lasting for year
Watching, indecisions lasting for years
Like a river in Arizona dried up before you were born
It's starting up again, it's starting up again
It's starting up again, it's starting up again
It's starting up again
We'll be watching your back
It's permanent, nothing is permanent
It's permanent, we'll be watching your back
It's permanent, nothing is permanent
It's permanent time is pushing us back
Permanent, permanent, permanent
