Anything for You

Corndaddy

I woke up early from my bed
With a secret in my head
In the back of my backyard
I keep a spaceship in the shed
I lit the engine and took the sky
From up here it looks so nice
I didn't stop until the moon, where I
Picked a flower just for you
Refrain:
And I fell down to you in a parachute of newspaper rubber bands, tape, and glue
So you would see I would do anything for you
Anything for you
I didn't want to wake you up, so I put the flower in a cup

On the floor next to your bed
Without a sound I laid my head
Drifted off into a dream
Of what has been and what could be
I saw your tears, I saw you fall
But I saw us rise, I saw it all
Refrain
And I never want you to know
All of the lengths I've gone
To find where the flowers grow
Love is never supposed to be
A present under our tree
I do it because I believe
Refrain
