

Fool No More

The Motet

Crashing walls, I think I'm fallin
Twisted on a witches brew
I can't run, if I'm crawling
But I gotta rip the stitches too I believe that I can reach a higher part of me
If I set myself free the possibilities are endless It's no surprise, that as the days go by
The fool in me's not fooled no more
Tomorrow's an open door Emancipation, trying to reach her
Learning from each day and night
Using love, as my teacher
What was dark is coming into light I can see that I can reach a higher part of me
Now I set myself free cuz the possibilities are endless It's no surprise, that as the days go by
The fool in me's not fooled no more
Tomorrow's an open door
It's taken time, seeing the days go by
To not let the fool be fooled no more
Tomorrow's an open door Don't believe, that you can't achieve the things you'd like
To see, in your life
You just gotta release, your mind,
Believe that if you feel it then you will find
The signs, to steer you to that golden path of light It's no surprise, that as the days go by
The fool in me's not fooled no more
Tomorrow's an open door
It's taken time, seeing the days go by
To not let the fool be fooled no more
Tomorrow's an open door
