Loving Arms

Dobie Gray

If you could see me now
The one who said she rather roll away
The one who said she rather be gone
If you could only see me now

If Icould hold you now
(For)Just one moment if could really make you mine
If I could could turn the hands of time
If you could only see me now

Coz I'been too long in the rain too long in the wind seeking any comfort that I can Looking back and longing for the freedom from my chains
Lying in your arms once again
