Rewind

Allister

The conversation died last night,
On the heels of another fight,
And you had so much more to say yeah,And now my telephone is blind,
I put my bottle on rewind,
To hear the music going on and on and on,There's nothing in this world that touches me like you do,
And helps me to unlock emotions i never knew,
It's never gonna change,
It's always gonna feel this way 'til i can't hear it anymore,I've been in love,
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,
I've been in love,
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,And now the silence died last night,
Cut off by these city lights,
Leaving so much more to say yeah,I've walked these streets a thousand times,
With these songs locked up inside,
It helps to keep me moving on and on and on,There's nothing in this world that touches me like you do,
And helps me to unlock emotions i never knew,
It's never gonna change,
It's always gonna feel this way 'til i can't hear it anymore,I've been in love,
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,
I've been in love,
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,You made me,
You saved me,
You made me,
You changed me,There's nothing in this world that touches me like you do,
And helps me to unlock emotions i never knew,
It's never gonna change,
It's always gonna feel this way 'til i can't hear it anymore,I've been in love,
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,
I've been in love,
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,
I've been in love, (you made me)
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,
I've been in love, (you changed me)
I've been in love since i turned on my stereo,
