Better By You, Better Than Me

Spooky Tooth

You couldn't find a way to read my passion
You listen to the blood flow in my veins
You hear the teaching of the wind
To tell her what Im alive within
I cant find the words, my mind is dimIts better by you, better than meGuess, youll have to tell her how I tried
To speak the thoughts Ive held so long inside
Tell her now I've got to go
Out in the streets and down the shore
Tell her the worlds not much more living forIts better by you, better than meIts better by you, better than me
You can tell her what I want it to be
You can say what I only can see
Its better by you, better than meGuess, Ill have to change my way of living
Wanna really know the way I feel
Guess, Ill learn to fight and kill, tell her not to wait until Finds my blood upon her windowsillIts better by you, better than meIts better by you, better than me
You can tell her what I wanted it to be
You can say what I only can see
Its better by you, better than meIts better by you, better than me
You can say what I can't see
Can tell her what I wanted it to be
Its better by you, better than meIts better by you, you know, better than me
There you can say what they can't see
