Pray for a Better Day

Pray for a better day
Pray for a better daySometimes it feels like nobody cares
And sometimes it feels like I'm the only one that's there
And I cry myself to sleep, and I wake up on my knees
And I pray for a better daySometimes it hurts so much, more than I say
I try to keep it inside but I wear it on my face
When it feels like I'm fallin', feels like I'm fallin'
Oh, that's when I pray for a better dayI know it's there on the horizon and it's just about to break
Tomorrow's comin' around, so let today bring you down
All ya have to do is have some faith
And pray for a better dayPray for a better dayJust when I think that there's nowhere to go
Just when I think that I'm at my lowest low
And it feels like I'm fallin', feels like I'm fallin'
That's when I pray for a better dayI know it's there on the horizon and it's just about to break
Tomorrow's comin' around, so let today bring you down
All ya have to do is have some faith
And pray for a better dayI wanna live a life for love me in there
I wanna make the world a better place
And I wanna find my fairytale, I'm waiting for my ship to sail
I wanna be all I can, show 'em all who I am
And never give up on the wayThat's when I pray for a better day
And I know it's there, I know it's there and it's just about to break
Tomorrow's comin' around, so let the today bring you down
All ya have to do is have some, all ya have to do is have some
All ya ought to do is have some faith and pray for a better dayPray for a better day, pray for a better day
Pray for a better day, pray for a better day
Pray for a better day, pray for a better day
