Over It

Relient K

I'll admit to who I am
The day I come to understand
I haven't got a clue
Been searchin' for a few years nowIf I don't repeat myself
Then I'll change into someone else
But I don't quite know who?
Been searchin' for a few years nowAnd I'm over it, yeah, behind me now
I'm just over it
Over it, yeah, I'm findin' out
I'm just over itNo, I don't know if it's over just yet
But I won't go slow
And time can let the mind forgetDon't tell me you don't know
AlreadyI'll protect your universe
And make a mess to make it worse
But time will only tell
You and no one elseAnd I'm over it, yeah, behind me now
I'm just over it
Over it, yeah, I'm findin' out
I'm just over itNo, I don't know if it's over just yet
But I won't go slow
And time can let the mind forgetDon't tell me you don't know
Already
Don't tell me you let go, ohYou say you made up your mind
And you finally decided that those that helped you choose
Haven't the slightest clue as to
The magnitude of what you're about to loseI'm guarded and therefore I can endure
A little bit more, just a little bit more
Then some people would if not misunderstoodIt's still an attempt to be equal
Is well self-assured
If I'm still unsure that I'm pretty sure
That I am pretty good, God, you know I'm goodAnd I'm over it, yeah, behind me now
I'm just over it
Over it, yeah, I'm findin' out
I'm just over itNo, I don't know if it's over just yet
But I won't go slow
And time can let the mind forgetDon't tell me you don't know
Already
Don't tell me you let go
AlreadyDon't tell me you don't know

Already
Don't tell me you let go
AlreadyDon't tell me you don't know
Don't tell me you don't know
Don't tell me you don't know
