

Winter of a Broken Heart

Alison Krauss

Oh it seems the sun will never shine
The skies are so gray and the heart you left broken is lonely
The winter wind blows through the trees and with the song I sing
I long for the days you loved me only Sorrow lingers, shadows only fill the empty room Nights of lonely cries unheard in the winter of a broken heart Oh the nights will never be the same as when the love was new
Young hearts so tender in their yearning
But seasons, change and lovers too and winter's twice as cold
The fire in one heart is always burning Sorrow lingers, shadows only fill the empty room Nights of lonely cries unheard in the winter of a broken heart Though a million hours pass the time and lonely is the pain
And what was love is just a spell that's broken
So blow the wind and freeze the rain and try like lover's do Seems our hearts have never really spoken Sorrow lingers, shadows only fill the empty room
Nights of lonely cries unheard in the winter of a broken heart
