Brake Your Bones

Kill Paradise

Hello miss do you have the time?
I've lost my watch, but I have my mind
And while you're watching time go by
I'd like to ask you how it feels to dieWhere am I now?
Where are you now?
Counting all your wishes
What a head rush
In the field brush
Fishing for your kisses
(and we all fall so hard, we fall so hard)So brake, brake, brake, brake your bones tonight
Trust me if you do, you will feel just fine
So take gold chains, take this chance tonight Trust me if you do, you will feel just fine
So put em up and scream it loud and
When you're done put it on the ground cause
Summer comes when it goes
Where she at no one knows,
Fix your hair and strike a pose
Glory in it goesWhat can I do to make it through?
What can I do to make it through?
What can I do?
What can I do?
What can I do?
(and we all fall so hard, we fall so hard)(repeat chorus)
