

Unknown Encounter

Ariel Abshire

The day the lights went out
Everybody screamed
The shouting of the crowd
Was not as funny as it seemed

The day the lights went black
I was having a debate
On religion and politics
And if I needed faith

I had an unknown encounter with love, love
I have an unknown encounter with love, love
He didn't speak, not one word, love
I had an unknown encounter with love

The next year we hung around
And pretended to be friends
And the truth is you have potential
So this isn't where it ends

You came to see my show
A long, long time ago
You sat in the front row
But I forgot you since so

I had an unknown encounter with love, love
I have an unknown encounter with love, love
He didn't speak, not one word, love
I had an unknown encounter with

I wrote my number on a paper napkin for you
You said you'd call, you said you'd call
You said you'd call, but you never would
You never would

You came to see my show a long, long time ago
You sat in the front row
But I forgot you since so
I forgot you since so

I forgot you since so

I had an unknown encounter with love, love

I have an unknown encounter with love, love

He didnâ€™t speak, not one word, love

I had an unknown encounter with love
