

Leviathan

Covenant

I watch minutes grow to hours, and how seasons builds the ages, every winter dies in sunlight, only to be born again and the rainfall feeds the forests while the lightning strikethe trees turning giants into dust fertile ashes on the groundi see them going down to the water where they embrace the silent waves slowly they're swallowed by the water and their breath ascending to the skyi see them now floating in the water carried away, carried awayi see wasteland turn into gardens watching oceans giving birth to fragile little creatures born to grow and multiply and the children of the children of the firstborn claims theland building fences for protection from their brothers greedy graspi watch kingdom rise and crumble and the nations come and go only new names for the same things once the limits has beenreached now i see them lose their intrest in trhe deeds that have beendone and the wisdom that's been found, as they return whence theycame.
