Worlds Collide

Nick Thayer

Never gonna die now
Crawling from a wrecked jam
I'm laughing out loud
Angel on my shoulder
Living at the speed of sound
Heavenly distraction
I'm hanging on the edge
And spinning out of control
Choose your medication
It's a generation overload
I can see it falling from the sky
Can you feel me?
I can hear you calling when you cry
Can you see me?
Pain and suffering, your knees are tied
Will you hear me?
Ever changing as your worlds collide
Running going nowhere
Take it to the limit
Then it's payback time
Nothing but a heartache
Waiting at the end of the line
Take a look around, babe
You're looking down
The barrel of a loaded mind
Generation landslide
Crawling through the enemy lines
I will be the one your justify
Will you hear me?
I will kiss you with a last goodbye
I thought I was the one who could survive
Does anyone get outta here alive?
I gotta find the courage, gotta make a change
And start all over again
Taken for a ride against my will
And taking it is always such a bitter pill
Shaken for the sake of it, no more
Gotta get away 'cause I don't know what I'm doing it for
I can see it falling from the sky

Can you feel me?
I can hear you calling when you cry
Can you see me?
I will be there when you close your eyes
Will you hear me?
Ever changing as your worlds collide
