

Streetlights

Josh Rouse

Rock and roll You are envy, I am So uncool Still I want to do the best I can Lets meet on the corner and act like were old friends We can talk about the streetlights The people Surrounding youIn a haze Wont you tell me how it feels To be a nervous man At the wheels You dont have a master plan But you will start today You will start today I called you up Cause I felt so guilty Ended upIt was not such a pretty scene Lets dump the ashtray, wipe the table clean We can talk about the streetlights The people Surrounding youIn a haze Wont you tell me how it feels To be an famous man At the wheel You dont have a master plan But you will start today You will start today You will start When all of your fear is gone And your thinking that your strong Enough To make the jump up to the big big sky, sky We can talk about the streetlights The people Surrounding you Its a strong pull We can talk about the streetlights The people Going down And you will start today You will start today You will start today You will start Today
