Close

Catie King

I swear I feel you in the wind
Sinking deep beneath my skin
Every inch your fingers ever knew
Becomes a new way to feel close to you
And when the day is finally throughI close my eyes
And I realize
That it all comes back
To youThere's something crazy about your touch
I can never have too much
Hiding somewhere deep inside
The place where you and I collide
And when all the noise subsidesI close my eyes
And I realize
That it all comes back
To you
To you
To youWhen everything you've ever known is Falling out the sky
Where do you hide?
I'd never known a love like this
Til I finally messed it up rightAnd I closed my eyes
And I realized
That it all comes back
To you
