

Distant Travelers

Mike Love

If I was looking for a best friend,
Well I've already had so many of those
    Someone to put me to the test
And make fun of me and help me pick out my clothes.
    And if I was looking for a lover,
I could have had just about a million flings,
    But I was looking for somebody
    Who could be all these things.
Then I found you And my world is different now,
    I'm on the road to somewhere.
    Could it be somehow,
    That we were distant travelers
        Passing in the sky,
Well I just had to stop and say hi,
    I just had to stop on by.
        Oh my love,
        Don't you know,
        Can't you feel it, don't it show,
That inside sometimes it's like I'm 'bout to explode
    And overflow with happiness,
Want you to know I feel so blessed just to be
    In the presence of such a precious empress.
    I feel overwhelmed sometimes,
    I think of a thousand rhymes but none
Of them can compare to the poetry in your eyes,
    I'm not surprised it took no time
To realize I need you right by my side.
    And my world is different now,
    I'm on the road to somewhere.
        Could it be somehow,
        That we were distant travelers
            Passing in the sky,
Well I just had to stop and say hi,
    I just had to stop on by
I will be with you as we cross into forever,
I'll be your umbrella in any kind of weather,
    For it was written, we were
    Destined for each other, my love
    And my world is different now,

I'm on the road to somewhere.
Could it be somehow,
That we were distant travelers
Passing in the sky,
Well I just had to stop and say hi,
I just had to stop on by
We just had to stop and say hello,
We just had to know.
