

The Truth

Limp Bizkit

It's 3 A.M.

It's cold outside, you can't sleep
Is it from your conscience talking
To the skeletons you keep?
Every time you try to speak
Only craziness comes out
But she can't turn the other cheek
And you can't hide how it comes out
So when did you decide to embrace

What you hate to survive
'Cause that's not what got us here
It's 8 A.M. and still no sleep

But you don't care
I don't know why I keep on calling
Does it get us anywhere?

'Cause every time I try to speak
You never let my words come out
I can't turn the other cheek

And I can't help how this comes out
So when did you decide to embrace
What you hate to survive

'Cause that's not what got us here

Honestly, I don't know how you could see

Something you once saw in me

Just another ball of tears

Wonder if you ever lie awake in bed

And think about the things you said

Your dedication shows that you can't see

Your eyes are closed

And all the promises you made to me

They seem to fade and leave me

With this disappointment

That these words can never show

When your ride is over

And you're hanging by a thread

As your house of cards is falling

Just remember what I said

So when do you decide to embrace

You hate to survive
'Cause that's not what got us here
And honestly, I don't know how you could see
Something you once saw in me
Just another ball of tears
