

The Banjolin Song

Mumford & Sons

She stole my heart and made me sing
She tore me limb from limb
I did not think that I could love
Or be loved that way again Again, again How glad I was to be myself
And use my heart once more
How glad I was to be a man
And love that girl that I adore Adore. Well my eyes shall see light again
And my heart shall bleed right again
Oh my eyes shall see light again
And my heart shall bleed right again
