

Medusa

Emma Ruth Rundle

Medusa, nobody knows me like you failing forgiveness for all of the things you see you say: "nobody ever will touch you again" you say: "nobody ever will love you" for your eyes need us to be made so white all my life: I'm nothing Medusa, you come looking like Mother Teresa you come looking for daughters to please you you come blind Medusa, you want all of the world just to need you you want everyone here just to see you you make us blind you say: "nobody ever, ever will touch you again" you say: "nobody ever, ever will love you" you shot me down like you shot me down
