

Let Me Hold You

Stoney LaRue

It's the feeling I get, when you start to cry tears down my sails, like a stormy night, dry your eyes girl, just let me hold you,
I was born to skate, on very thin ice, most of what i do, i don't even think twice, so dry your eyes girl, just let me hold you.

chorus:

close your eyes, hold on tight,
let me run around inside of your mind,
baby just for tonight, let me just hold you.

i'm the ship that's been tossed, bridges burned, you brought me back, from the point of no turn.
thank God i'm with you now,
so i can just hold you.
well there's nothing more, that i need to say.
i just want to be yours, at the end of everyday, so i can close my eyes, and just let you hold me.

repeat chorus

for all we know, there may not be tomorrow, so let's hold tight, till the morning comes.

repeat chorus

baby just for tonight, let me just hold you.
