

The Serpent & the Machinery

Allure of Souls

Kneeling down before the mirror
You unlock the door
Like a prayer my soul surrenders
To "la rage au coeur"

I paint my lips with a hungry heart
To feed the beast in my soul

The serpent and the machinery
The black snake crawls on the greenery
Oh, such beautiful scenery
All love should be like this
All love should be like this

Like holy water, holy wine
Taste it from my mouth
Love so deep it makes you cry
That's what it's all about

With desire sweet like a twisted dream
I've been waiting for you

The serpent and the machinery
The black snake crawls on the greenery
Oh, such beautiful scenery
All love should be like this
All love should be like

The serpent and the machinery
The black snake kisses the greenery
Oh, such beautiful scenery
All love should be like
All love should be
All love should be like this

Cast the spell
Drink the potion
Feel the depth of my devotion
But when the gypsy whispers "Viene a l'ombre"

Then, oh baby, we gotta go

The serpent and the machinery
The black snake crawls on your greenery
Oh, such beautiful scenery
All love should be like

The serpent and the machinery
The black snake kisses your greenery
Oh, such beautiful scenery
All love should be like this

All love should be like
All love should be
All love should be like this

The serpent and the machinery
The serpent and the machinery
The serpent and the machinery
The serpent and the machinery
