

homeland

Postmen

At the edge of the day there was nothing left and nobody could care about me in your yard filled with toys i was passing time with a friend, imaginary won't you come, i'll be gone
 today
 won't you come.

come on down to my house theres a swimming pool and it's winning over everybody in a town i call home i wouldnt look at life but it never seems to look at me
won't you come, i'll be gone
 today
 wont' you come.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>