

You Don't Send Me

Belle and Sebastian

Since you went away, everything is lookin' great
I'm a little bored
When I see you out, maybe walkin' in the street
You always cross the road Listen honey, there is nothin' you could say to surprise me
Listen honey, there is nothin' you could say to offend me, anymore
You don't send me anymore Our little scene is gettin' smaller by the day
It's a human zoo
But the key is change, gettin' over all your problems
You're not a fool Listen honey, there is nothin', you could say to surprise me
And listen honey, there is nothin', you could do to offend me
'Cause you don't send me Every sound is tame, every group the bleedin' same
It would make you mad
What happened to the sounds that left you lyin' on the floor?
Laughin', cryin', jumpin' and singin'? Listen honey, there is nothin', you could say to astound me
Listen honey, there is nothin', you could do to offend me anymore
You don't send me anymore You don't send me anymore
You don't send me anymore
You don't send me anymore
