Squander (Live and Acoustic)

Skunk Anansie

Why take everything you see? You have nothing left to squander If you keep pushing me away You have no one left to loveYou throw it all away Those ties you went and suffered for you called disaster thunder thunder thunder Why take everything you see? You have nothing left to squander If you keep pushing me away You have no one left to do loveyou're less than you should be what runs so hard to finish I you could contendement wonder wonder wonder Why take everything you see? You have nothing left to squander If you keep pushing me away You have no one left to looooove, looooove Why squander squander squanderWhy take everything you see? You have nothing left to squander If you keep pushing me away You have no one left to, no one left to love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/