The Love

Linus Loves

{One, two, one, two, three, four} Every face I see reminds me of you Nothing I can touch feels the way you do Knowing you are mine is the best thing in my life Baby, I'm alive completely This is the love, this is the love This is the love, this is the love This is the love, the love you've always dreamed of This is the love, the hand that fills your cup The wings that lift you up, so high, so close Two can be as one, this is the love This is the love Ohh, everyone has somethin' no one else can see

Every breath, every touch, every heartbeat's givin' me The feelin' that I've known you in another place in time A transcendental doorway opens up and hand in hand we shine And if I'm down, she will stand there tall, hold on, hold on And if you're down, I will build a wall around you to hold you

I'm so glad I found you This is the love, this is the love This is the love, the love you've always dreamed of This is the love, the hand that fills your cup The wings that lift you up, so high, so close Two can be as one, this is the love The love, this is the love Every heartbeat, every shadow, every mountain in the morning You can touch me while I'm dreaming, this is the love Every evening in my bedroom, every ocean past the moon And every sunset rise above [Incomprehensible]Every heartbeat, every shadow, every mountain in the morning You can touch me while I'm dreamin', this is the love
