Crooked Smile

The Weepies

You can't get up Cause you've been down and you are reeling
You catch you breath
by counting cracks upon the ceiling It makes it somewhat less appealing to be feeling like you're stealing someone else's broken heart
Do do do do

This empty end was never something of your choosing You could have won but you were much too busy losing You go out crusing for a bruising, An illusion that you use to cover up your broken heart
Do do do do
Do do do do

Hey crooked smile
It would never work between you and I
And I know it's true
I still love you
You know I do
Do do do do
Do do do do

You don't try no more but it is not because you're lazy Without a doubt you figure out that you are crazy
And it gets hazier
the way we were I'll stay with her
That left you with another broken heart
Do do do do
Do do do do do do do do do do Do do do do
