Turning Around

Rebecca Troon

Yes all the vampires know my name
But they don't treat me quite the same
I've pulled the leather from my eyes
I've put all the stars back in your skies[Chorus:]
I'm turning this life around
I broke all the chains that used to tie me down
I'm turning this life around before it's overSaid goodbye to ego and the shame
There's no use in hiding in that fame
I've pulled the leather from my eyes
I've put all the stars back in your skies[Chorus]You can't tell the lover from the lies
Because they come in such a beautiful disguise[Chorus]
