

Tighten the Reins

Lions In the Street

*Tighten The Reigns

Five long years, I been holding all my tears
You never bit your tongue â€“ I should have told you.

Time slips away, I been counting all the days.
I never sung â€“ I never said I told you so.

This time you know I won't fake.
This time you're going away.
This time you're gonna be a bit lonely.

You got one hand in the open,
The other hid away.
Now you can't hide; It's just too late
Now you can't stop me,
You just tighten the reigns
--tighten the reigns

Don't mean a thing, that I won't kiss your ring.
Never been a house big enough to hold you.
Like a dog put away, it happens everyday.
But I won't bray â€“ I won't say I told you so.
