

Sometimes in August

Astorian Stigmata

I'm gonna tear this vein from me
And tie it right back to you
When your faces all align
My life comes back from the dead
I got nothing else coming
So I say don't you worry bout' nothing
Cause I don't lie and your still mine.
I'm here to stay
Here to bleed another day.

Here's to our million moments never coming back again
You never seen them but their dancing through your memory
And there's a little light that's never going out
And it reminds you to stay
Until it takes you away
Away, Away

No, don't you go
Stay alive
It's ok though

No, don't you go
Say Goodbye
It's ok though
No...

I'm gonna tear this vein from me
And tie it right back to you
And I don't mind if I can't breathe
As long as I can still see these scars
And all they used to mean
And what they've done to you

Here's to our million moments never coming back again
You never seen em but their dancing through your memory
They leave a little light that's never going out
And it reminds you to stay
Until it takes you away
Away

Lyrics submitted by brooke colson.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>