Aroused

Tom Vek

You said only a back page
Will get as read as the first page
Now you're observing the corners
Are showing the first signs of ageing
I'm not trying to read you anymore
Just keep on turning me through the days
Until the latest chapter unfoldsYou look aroused, you look awake
You are the light turned onA slumber will fall on you again
But in your dreams you're being held
Underneath the elephants in the room
You were trampled stampeded downBroken all our hearts
You've broken all our hearts
But they no longer ache now
They don't hurtYou look aroused
You look awake
You are the light turned onYou look aroused
You look awake
You are the light turned onYou look aroused
You look awake
You are the light turned onYou look aroused
You look awake
You are the light turned on
