

"Wherever You Go" (Spanish Version)

Voices of Theory

Since you left me
My life ain't been the same
I'm useless without your love
I'm calling, crying out your name But when I look around
Your love is nowhere to be found
Please come back to me
Baby, you know you're my everything Who will love me and who will care?
Who will be there when I need someone for me?
Who will be there to dry my eyes?
When I fall down on my knees?
Will I hear you say? Wherever you go, whatever you do
You know I'm waiting
You know I'll never leave Whatever it takes, whatever's at stake
Just know, I love you
And know I'll be right here And no matter what it takes I'll be waiting here for you always
Goodbye is such a hard thing to say When you're all I know
When you're my everything
And who will stay and care for me When you're gone, I'll be all alone
Who will care and comfort
And fulfill my needs
I've got to know, baby Who will love me and who will care?
Who will be there when I need someone for me?
Who will be there to dry my eyes?
When I fall down on my knees?
Will I hear you say? Wherever you go, whatever you do
You know I'm waiting
You know I'll never leave Whatever it takes, whatever's at stake
Just know, I love you
And know I'll be right here All my life I've waited for someone like you
So please don't say it's over
Don't tell me, this just can't be true
Please don't leave me, don't walk away You know your love is something I can't do without
So whatever it takes
Or how much my heart aches
You know I'll always be around
