Passwords

Q and Not U

softly they push me in the water im ringing my clothes out now i drank the pail down of the water i run the water from my clothes so cleangently shut my eyes gently shut my eyesi filled the pail of the water i cast the passwords in a perfect scene and burn all my belongings maybe two will complicate my life oh this and more
right before my eyes the pail in my mouth my password was a home on fire
silently transpiredthey push push push me in the water they push push push me in a perfect scene reciting passwords in a fog of perfume reciting passwords in the ? of perfume tearsthey're burning my belongings they're deleting every word i write a silky fog of tear gas endlessly conspiresi i i never said no because my password was a home on fire this as the perfume teardrops vanished from my eyes
