

Geek U.S.A.

Smashing Pumpkins

Lover lover, let's pretend
We're born as innocents
Cast into the world with apple eyes
To wish wish dangerous
My dear delirious
To try and leave the rest of us behind
Shot full of diamonds
And a million years
The disappointed disappear
Like they were never here
Kiss kiss all of this
The hiss that we had missed
And understand what can't be understood
Sear those thoughts of me
Alone and unhappy
I never liked me anyway
If by chance
Or circumstance
We should fail
Don't be too sad
Shot full of diamonds
And a million years
The disappointed disappear
Like they were never here
In a dream
We are connected
Siamese twins
At the wrist
And then I knew we'd been forsaken
Expelled from paradise
I can't believe them
When they say that it's alright
Words can't define what
I feel inside, who needs them?
Caught with this virus of my mind
I give in to my disease of my needs
To my disease of my needs, yeah
She really loves to break
Her dad says, "It's okay"
She really loves to break
And give it all away
Her ma says, "She's afraid"
What more can she fake
She really needs to break
And give herself away
"She gave it all away"
She gave it all away
She gave it all away
We really love the U.S.A
