Red, White & Blue

Judas Priest

When I'm far away
And I can't get through
Wherever I roam this piece of home
Keeps bringing me back to youHolding on to hope
There's no need to fear
Wherever I roam this piece of home
Keeps telling you that I'm nearSo lift up your heart
'Cause the brave will always come through
While we're apart
We will raise the red, white and blueWhen I stand alone
Without you by my side
I think of all that you stand for
It fills me up with prideReaching out to you
'Cross mountains, sea and sky
I think of all that you stand for
And hope will never dieSo lift up your heart
'Cause the brave will always come through
While we're apart
We will raise the red, white and blue
This red, white and blueNow I'm coming home again
I'm coming home to you
And as I roam this piece of home
Has brought me back to youSo lift up your heart
'Cause the brave will always come through
While we're apart
We will raise the red, white and blueSo lift up your heart
'Cause the brave will always come through
And as I roam this piece of home
Has brought me back to you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/