Red Headed Stepchild

Golden Smog

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Hello darkness, come on in
Let me light a candle
Imaginations runnin'
Hands start to trembleKnows enough to know not to believe
What is real and what it seems to be
Knows what's keepin' him from bein' free
Right outside your doorDon't run away
Red headed stepchild
I can only promise
You won't find your way back homeIn another room there's laughin'
Entertainin' strangers
Walls in there, don't breathe no more
But they're keepin' out some angelsLaughed so much, he almost cried
Stranger offers him a ride
City blocks roll on by
Never comin' backDon't run away
Red headed stepchild
I can only promise
You won't find your way back homeTake your pictures off my wall
I hate to look at strangers
Then it's burnin' be forewarned
Keep me out of dangerKnows enough to know not to believe
What is real and what it seems to be
Knows what's keepin' him from bein' free
Right outside your doorDon't run away
Red headed stepchild
I can only promise
You won't find your way back homeDon't run away
Red headed stepchild
I can only promise
You won't find your way back home
Find your way back home
