

Dream Burnin' Down

Lana Lane

I'm lookin' at the midnight like a loaded gun
And I'm caught in its sight and there's nowhere to run
I know I gotta face it, it's a long cold fight
When you're just halfway through a lonely night
And I'm closin' my eyes but I just can't see
Got a fever inside and it's killin' me I can see this dream burnin' down
There's nothing left but ashes on the ground
I see this dream goin' up in flames
And I know my life's never gonna be, never gonna be the same
And now I hold a pillow where I once held you
And the evening sun has turned me to blue
I think about tomorrow but I just don't care
'Cause I ain't gonna make it without you there
And I'm closin' my eyes but I just can't see
Got a fever inside and it's killin' me I can see this dream burnin' down
There's nothing left but ashes on the ground
I see this dream goin' up in flames
And I know my life's never gonna be, never gonna be the same
No, no, no
