Twiztid

sometimes you stop to just take a breath you breathe in the air and you get upset you dont wanna change, i just think you need a little time alone and away from me im not the only thing in the world thats in your way i know its hard sometimes you misunderstand all those things i sayi dont need anymore, anything to control me i put my addictions aside again and i dont need anymore, anything to provoke me and wonder why i tried againi think that maybe this way that i feel the side affects from trying to balance my soul instead i keep dividing it and hiding it from people who wanna provoke my bad side and keep it all from bubbling over into a land side im medicated, just hoping that it will fly by but sometimes i need to take a breath and ill be alright up all night because all of this is getting to me i know you prolly wanna hit me but breathe with mesometimes you stop to just take a breath you breathe in the air and you get upset
im not the only thing in the world thats in your way i know its hard sometimes you misunderstand all those things i sayi sit so high alone but my love was never off at any cost ive been through bravier things that people think are such an awful lost and i lost the race and picked up the pace my timings off, im well aware and i cant believe i say those things i say as if i just dont caresometimes you stop to just take a breath you breathe in the air and you get upset
im not the only thing in the world thats in your way and i know its hard sometimes you misunderstand all those things i sayand i dont want anymore all the greed is controlling the hunger never seems to end and i dont try anymore, so afraid of devoting and then i die inside againi think that maybe this way that ill feel the side affect from trying to balance my soul while i keep dividing it i try to get back up when i flip over then im here till situations devolepe off the mist of air it kinda feels like breathing in exhaust fumes while examining the hate while so many things gone bad it all seems to fade and dilute and polute, contaminate the breathing air im taking breath to moderation, as if i just dont care sometimes you stop to just take a breath

im not the only thing in the world thats in your way and i know its hard sometimes you misunderstand all those things i say breathe with me
as if i just dont care
wont you breathe with me
as if i just dont care
