

Cut The Cord

Lucid Dissent

Forgive me my presumption
Seems to be a problem here
    Cannot weigh it all
But the signal's crystal clear
    Oh, like animals
    We hear the calls
    The curtain falls
    See through them all
Why you never see me here
    Treat me like your dog
    Wait 'til the day I rise
    Never be your turn
    So I'm planning on a book
Oh, though you've demonized my eyes
    But I see right through you baby
    You wont blind me from your lies
    I failed to mention to
These things that can't be said in words
    Yeah

And you know your running out
    Why do it to me
When clearly you can set yourself free
    And I can't give you that
    Why you never see me here
    Treat me like your dog
    Wait 'til the day i rise
    Never be your turn? or undone?
So many roads of life left to define
    There's more to you
    Or more to outshine
I must remind myself of one thing
I climbed the mountain just to get the truth
    Pay the price just no that were thru
    Now I'm running
    Why didn't I forsee the end
    Treat me like your dog
    Wait 'til the day i rise
    Never be undone
